ECCLESIAE

SANCTI PAULI

fundatio.

De hujus illustris Templi fundatione nonnihil quidem discrepant Scriptores : opinio tamen receptissima est, Primò ab Aethelberto Cantij Regulo, circiter annum redemptionis 610. conditum esse, qui illi possessiones dedit, vt apparet.

Aedelbertus Rex Deo inspirante, pro anima sua remedio, dedit Episcopo Melito terram qua appellatur Tiltingham ad Monaster. sui solatium, scilicet S. Pauli: Et ego Rex Aethelbertus ita firmiter concedo tibi Praesuli Melito potestatem eius habendi, & possidendi vt in perpetuum in Monasterij utilitate permaneat, &c.

Aethelstanus, Edgarus, Edouardus nomine Confessor, & alij possessiones illi dederunt.

Rex Guilielmus Victor ædi S. Pauli Mauricioque illo tempore Episcopo & successoribus ejus Stort-

ford arcem, quæque ad eam pertinent, dedit. Munera etiam majorum suorum confirmavit.

Diploma Guilielmi Victoris huic S. Pauli Templo datum, memoriæ proditum in Turre Londinensi conspiciendum est.

Anno 1087. hoc Templum flammis absumptum est, unâque cum illo maxima pars Ciuitatis. Ex quo Mauricius tunc Episcopus novæ ædis fundamentum ponebat: opus quod nunquam perfectum iri putabant, eò longitudinis & latitudinis in immensum productum est; idemque est fornicatis lapidibus (vt ab igne defendatur) edificatum, quod artificium hujus gentis populo prius incognitum est, à Gallis huc allatum, lapides vero à Cano in Normandia adducti sunt.

Hic Mauricius, anno 1107. mortem cum vita commutavit, Richardo Beauveis (non Beamor vt ait Stow) in Episcopatum illi succedente, qui Templum illud mirificè exauxit, proprioq; sumptu, omnes circa ipsum plateas & viculos (in quibus antea habitavit vulgus) vt in illis pij sanctique homines habitent, inque illorum beneficium nactus est.

Turris vel Pyramis hujus Templi anno 1222. condita est.

Novum (vt dicitur) S. Pauli opus, ad Orientem, & à fronte Chori (vel loci in quo canunt) anno 1251. perfectum est.

Henricus Lacy Comes Lincolnienfis, Angliæ Custos &c. Et Rodulfus Balduck Episcopus London, magna in hanc ædem (circiter annum 1310.) beneficia contulerunt.

Anno.

Anno 1444. Pyramis secundò, fulmine incensa est, & magno labore, breui tempore, aceto (ut quidem apparebat,) restinguebatur: sed paulò post, prorupit rursus ignis, non sine magno cum lignei tum plumbei operis detrimento: sed anno 1462. refecta & renovata est.

Anno 1561. ista Pyramis iterum, cælitus fulmine incensa est, tantaque vi & ardore flagravit, ut brevi tempore tota Pyramis unâ cum tota Templi testudine, cum ex ligno tum explumbo, consumpta sit, non sine magna lamentatione perpetuaque spectatorum (quorum aliqui adhuc animam ducunt) memoriâ. Peracto hoc gravi infortunio, Serenissima Regina Elizabetha p. m. ad D. Præto-rem (ut quam celerrimè reparetur,) literas misit, illâque ipsa pro ingenua sua indole & liberalitate evestigio 1000. Marcas aureas, & ex sylvis suis 1000. lignorum vehes, ad expeditam ejus restaurationem donabat.

Ut taceam quid de Templi longitudine, latitudineque, & Pyramidis altitudine (quæ ad hoc non pertinent) dici possit: Habet hoc Templum Gubernatores, Episcopum, Decanum, Præcentorem, Cancellarium, Quæstorem, & quinque Archidiaconos; nimirum, London, Middlesex, Essex, Colchester, & S. Albans: habet Præbendarios triginta, & ad Chorum in re divina instruendum, Canonicos parvos (vulgo Peti-canons) duodecim, Vicarios chorales sex, Choristas decem.

De fundatione Ecclesie satis dicitur.

E piscoporū Catalogū à principio, ad hoc usque

 doctissimi illius Ioannis Coleti, veri Euangelij in illa nebulosa tempestate Papistica (annis ab hinc jam centum) professoris, nomen, memoriamque fœ-centum annos) reverendi Alexandri Nowelli illius sanctissimi viri, qui Decanatu quadraginta am-plius annis, omnium omnis generis hominum, præcipuè bonorum, summo amore præfuit. Et non sovita sua bonitas apparuit, & in morte bona sua opeprosequi verbis non est opus. Nec omitrendum puto ejus successorem Ioannem Ouerall, S. Theo-logiæ Doctorem, virum summa doctrina, ingenio acuto, judicioque sagacissimo præditum, qui dignitatem bona laude & applausu (de quo ipse testi-monium possum perhibere) annos tredecim obrinuit ; & nunc præsentis anno 1614. illo à supremo

 nostro Rege Jacobo ad Coventriæ & Lichfeldiæ Episcopatum provecto, visum est Majestati suæ ad hunc Decanatum Valentinum Carey generosi & ingenui sanguinis, S. Theologiæ Doctorem, Christi Colle-gij Cantabrigiæ Magistrum, virumque, ut dicunt, doctrina & eruditione non multis inferiorē, promoveri. Et sic, candide Lector, vale & frue.

FOVNDATION
of SAINT PAVLES Church.

Bout the foundation of this famous Church writers do somewhat varie : but the most receiued opinion is, that it was first founded by Aethelbert King of Kent : about the yeere of Christ 610. who gaue thereto lands, as appeareth ;

King Aethelbert, God inspiring him, for the peace of his soule, hath giuen to Bishop Mellitus certaine land called Tillengham, towards the maintenance of his Monastery, of S. Paul : And I Aethelbert the King doe firmly graunt to thee Mellitus the Prelate, full power to haue and to hold it for the perpetuall profit of the said Monasterie, &c.

Athelstane, Edgare, Edward the Confessor and others gaue lands therevnto.

William the Conquerour gaue to the Church of S. Paul, and to Mauricius then Bishop, and his successors, cessors, the castle of Stortford with the appurtenances : He also confirmed the gifts of his Predecessours.

The Charter of William Conquerour giuen to this Church of S. Paul is recorded and to bee seene in the Tower of London.

In the yeere 1087. this Church was burnt with fire, and therewith the most part of the Citie : wherevpon Mauricius then Bishop, began the foundation of a new Church : a worke that men thought would neuer haue been finished, it was to them so wonderfull for length and bredth, and also the same was builded vpon arched vaults of stone for defence against fire, which was a manner of worke till then vnknowne to the people of this nation ; brought in by the French, and the stone from Cane in Normandie.

This Mauricius deceased in the yeere 1107. Richard Beauveys (not Beamor as Stow saith) succeeding him in the Bishopricke, who did wonderfully increase the said Church, purchasing at his owne cost all the streetes and lanes about it (wherein before did dwell many lay people) for religious men to dwell in, and for their benefit &c.

The tower or steple of this Church was finished, ann. 1222.

The new worke of Paules, so called, at the East end aboue the Quier, was finished, ann. 1251.

Henry Lacy Earle of Lincolne, Custos of England &c. and Ralfe Baldock Bishop of London were great benefactors vnto this Church about the yeere 1310. Anno 1444. the steeple was the second time fired by lightning, and by great labour the same was in short time, to appearance, quenched with vinegar: but within a few houres the fire burst forth againe and did much hurt to the timber and leaden worke: but in the yeere 1462. it was repaired and amended.

Anno 1561. this steeple was againe set on fire by lightning from heauen, and it burned with such vehemencie, that within a short space all the spire of the steeple, with all the roofes of the Church both leaden-worke and timber-worke were consumed, to the great sorrow and perpetuall remembrance of the beholders (diuers whereof are yet liuing.) After this great misfortune, Queene Elizabeth of blessed memory directed letters to the Lord Major for the speedy repaying of the same, and She of her owne gracious disposition and bounty, did giue presently in gold 1000. markes, and a warrant for a 1000. loads of timber to be taken out of her woods, to further the reparation thereof, &c.

To omit what might bee said concerning the height of the steeple, the length and bredth of the Church, as things impertinent; this Church hath for Gouvernours, a Bishop, a Deane, a Precentor, a Chauncellor, a Treasurer, and 5. Archdeacons; to wit, of London, Middlesex, Essex, Colchester, and S. Albans: it hath Prebendaries 30. and to furnish the Quire in diuine seruice, Pety-canon 12. Vicars chorall 6. Queristers 10. &c.

At the entrance of the North side or Fle of the Quire or Chancell.

Contigit hijs diebus dum Episcopus iste Rogerus in hac Ecclesia ante majus Altare staret infulatus ad celebrandum divina, quod tanta in aëre facta est nubium densitas, vt vix alter alterum discernere possit, quam confestim sequuta est tonitruum horribilis concussio cum tanta fulminis coruscatione ac foetore intollerabili, vt omnes qui aderant rapide fugientes nihil verius quam mortem expectarent. Solus Episcopus cum vno Diacono remansit intrepidus. Aëre tandem purgato Episcopus residuum rei divinæ expleuit.

Betwixt our Lady Chapell and S.
Dunstons Chapell, lieth buried

HENRY Lacy Earle of Lincolne vnder a faire ancient Monument, his picture in Armour crosse-legged, as one professed for defence of the Holy Land, against the Infidels: which monument by iniurie of time is foulely defaced.

Beneath the staires in the body of the Church with monuments
aboue ground.

VNDER a faire Monument lieth buried anno 1358.
Sr. Iohn Beauchamp, Constable of Dover, Warden of the Cinque-Ports, Knight of the Garter; Sonne of Guy Beauchamp, Earle of Warwicke, as appeareth by his Armes upon his Tombe. He is by ignorant people abusiuely termed Humphrey Duke of Glocester, who indeed lieth honourably buried at S. Albans.

The Collector to the Reader.

IN memoriall of this deceased Nobleman, falsly termed Duke Humphrey, diuers men of late yeeres, and those no worse than Citizens and Tradersmen, forsooth, on S. Andrewes day before Christmas after they haue met and foole-wisely in the morning come and presented themselves before his Monument, they haue had a feast prepared, and assumed vnto themselves to haue offices vnder the said Duke Humphrey &c.

Secondly, on May-day, a certaine rude company of Tankerd-bearers haue vsed to come betimes in the morning, and there as idle as the others, haue presented themselves before the same Monument, and strewn hearbes, and sprinkled water vpon it, terming themselves Duke Humphreys seruants in seuerall offices, &c. But I vnderstand that the now living Bell-ringers, who keep the Church doores, haue debarred both the one and the other for offering any idle ceremonie at the monument: telling them if they had any thing to doe at Duke Humphreys monument, they should goe to S. Albans, where indeed it is: and vnto them I referre you for a further relation of these vanities.

But thirdly, there are another sort of sworne seruants and resident attendants on this deceased Nobleman, who doe daily giue their attendance, and offer their hungry deuotions vnto his shrine: and yow shall be sure to find some or other of them euery day throughout the yeere there waiting, betwixt the houres of twelue and one at noone:

Of whom I haue no more to say,
because I hold their punishment sufficient in gi-
uing that attendance.

In the South side Sr. Iohn Beauchamps Tombe, there is also an Inscription in brasfe upon that side of the Monument as followeth;
